3rd International Students' Conference on Conservation and Restoration of Works of Art

17th-19th March 2016 Cracow, Poland

Dear Bachelor's, Master's and Ph. D Students,

After a short break we are organizing the 3rd International Students' Conference on Conservation and Restoration of Works of Art which will be held on 17th – 19th March 2016 in Cracow, Poland. We invite you to participate the event. The Conference will be organized by the Students Committee with patronage of Faculty of Conservation and Restoration of Works of Art Academy of Fine Arts in Cracow.

During the conference there are to be presented: conservation projects in which the students took part, the results of work carried out at objects during the academic year, theses, scientific papers and papers based on former literature related to the conservation and restoration of works of art. The conference conducted by students will consist of several thematic sessions adjusted to the number of qualified papers.

Aims of the conference

- Presentation of the work results and students' achievements in the field of conservation and restoration of works of art,
- Exchange of experience and free discussion on papers' subjects
- Encourage students to research,
- Promotion of research in the field of conservation and restoration,
- Revival of cooperation between universities that educate conservators in Poland and abroad.
